INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

LET'S PRACTICE!

Read what four people say about their school and favourite subject. Can you guess the favourite subject of each student?

I really love learning about how things work around us. It's amazing to discover the hidden reasons behind everyday stuff. This subject makes me feel like a detective, solving mysteries of the world and learning a lot about nature!

I really love learning about how things are made up and why they act the way they do. Mixing something together and watching reactions is like magic! It's so cool to understand what's happening in everyday things around us.

My favourite class is the one where we get to move around a lot and play games. I really like how we learn about being healthy and strong while having fun. It's awesome to be active and play with my friends. I look forward to this class every week because it makes me feel happy and full of energy!

I really love learning about different places on our planet! It's so cool to study maps, learn about mountains, rivers, and all the amazing animals that live in different parts of the world. I also enjoy discovering how people in different places live, what they eat, and how they adapt to their environments.

LUNCHTIME

Read the dialogue between two classmates. Fill in the gaps with the words from the previous slide.

Tom: Hi, Sarah! Did you see our new _____?

Sarah: Hi, Tom! Yes, I did. It's so cool! The _____ is big, and there are lots of _____.

Tom: Yeah, and the _____ visited our classroom today.

Sarah: Really? That's exciting! What did the headteacher talk about?

Tom: Well, he said we should always listen to our form teacher and be kind to everyone.

Sarah: That's good advice. Our _____ is nice.

Tom: Oh, yes. That's true. Listen, I'm hungry. Are you going to the _____ after class?

Sarah: Yes, I am. Let's go together. I heard they have pizza today.

Tom: Pizza sounds yummy. After that, we can come back here and do our science experiment in the lab.

Sarah: It's a great plan!

LET'S TALK!

Would you rather have more homework but no exams, or fewer homework assignments and more exams?

Would you rather have physical education classes every day or art classes every day?

Would you rather have a computer for every subject or traditional textbooks and notebooks?

Would you rather have a longer summer vacation and shorter breaks during the year, or shorter summer vacation and longer breaks during the year?

Would you rather have a strict dress code at school or be able to wear your own clothes?

EXTRA TASK

Complete the story using the words on the right.

Liam started his day by checking his smartphone for homework updates. His (1) _____ class was up first, and they were learning modern poetry, which he liked a lot. After, he had an (2) _____ lesson where they were using digital tablets to design graffiti-style artwork. His friend, Jake, came up to him before their (3) _____ class, excited about the new experiment they were going to try with a plant. Liam was more excited about (4) _____, though. They'd be coding a new video game today.

Lunchtime meant a quick stop at the (5) _____. Liam bought a sandwich and chatted with his friends about the latest online game craze. One friend said that the new (6) _____ in their classroom was like a huge tablet, making lessons so interactive.

After lunch, it was (7) _____. Not Liam's favourite, but he knew it was good to stay active. They were trying out a trendy new sport today. He was just glad it wasn't too sunny out.

Then, in their new (8) _____, they had a (9) _____ experiment. Mixing chemicals and watching colours change was always fun. Next door, the (10) _____ classroom was buzzing. They were building mini rockets. Cool!

Before going home, Liam met his (11) _____. She was so chill, always playing the latest hits on her speakers, and giving advice about homework. Everyone liked her.

On his way out, he saw the (12) _____ by the entrance, talking to the teachers about the upcoming school trip. Liam was hoping it'd be somewhere epic. With his headphones on, he boarded the bus home, already thinking about his next day at the academy.
