WHAT'S IN THEIR BAGS?

The screenshot shows an interactive activity on a tablet. At the top left is the 'ENG HUB' logo. The title 'What's in Their Bags?' is in the center, with a note: 'There is no correct answer. Just share your thoughts.' Below the title is an instruction: 'Read each person's profile and, using 'there is' or 'there are', describe what items you think belong in their bag, then drag those items from the list into the rectangle next to their name.' There are two profiles: Sarah, a fitness instructor, and Tom, a university student. Between them is a large collection of colorful icons representing various items like a phone, passport, comb, perfume, toothbrush, toothpaste, wallet, sunglasses, map, pens, pencil case, umbrella, keys, paperclip, water bottle, glasses, sunglasses, camera, hand sanitizer, wallet, keys, headphones, notebook, yoga mat, laptop, books, smartphone, pen, and smartwatch. Below each profile is a large grey rectangle for the user to place items. The 'genially Education' logo is in the bottom left corner of the tablet screen.

Now let's practice!

Follow the link and read each person's profile. Using 'there is' or 'there are', describe what items you think belong in their bag, then drag those items from the list into the rectangle next to their picture.
