Reading

- 1 Read the story. What does Victoria do at the circus?

Victoria's Dream

In my dream, I'm at the circus with my brother, Steve, and my parents. I'm feeling really excited because I love the circus, especially the animals. I want to work with animals when I'm older. Anyway, my parents are sitting down and they're waiting to watch the show. My brother and I go outside to see some of the animals.

Then Steve meets some friends of his and I go to find the elephants, my favourite animals. An animal trainer is getting them ready and I watch him.

Then the trainer asks me if I want to ride one of the elephants! Of course I say 'Yes, please!' and he helps me to get up on the elephant's back. Wow! The clowns and the fire jugglers are all watching me and I know I can do this.

The next minute, we are riding around inside the Big Top, the big circus tent. Suddenly, the trainer says to me, 'Stand up Victoria, stand up!' So I stand up on the elephant's back but it's very difficult – and then I'm falling, falling ...

'Victoria, Victoria!' I can hear my mother shouting. Then I wake up and I'm not at the circus any more.

Do I really want to work with animals? Well, certainly not in a circus!

2 Complete the sentences about the story.

- 1 Victoria and her family are at the _____.
- 2 Victoria and her brother go _____ to see the animals.
- 3 Victoria's _____ animal is the elephant.
- 4 Victoria _____ on the elephant's back into the Big Top.

A last chance

One day, Steffie came home from school and shouted for her mum. 'Mum! Listen! They're making a musical film about teenagers and they've asked for children from my school who know how to sing and dance. ¹ ' Steffie danced and sang in her bedroom all evening and then got up at 6 o'clock the next day, Friday. She did NOT want to be late!

However, nothing seemed to go right for her: her mum cut her finger on a knife in the kitchen and Steffie had to make her own breakfast. ² . Finally, they got in the car and it didn't start! Oh no!! Steffie's dad was away so they called a taxi. It came after half an hour!

When Steffie finally got to school, it was very late and the musical director was listening to the last boy. ³ . 'OK,' he said. 'That's it. I've chosen three students for the musical ...' Steffie quickly ran up to him. 'Oh please sir, I'm so sorry I'm late, we had a problem with the car. Please can I sing and dance for you? I've got my music here.' Steffie showed the director her iPod.

The director looked at her and smiled slowly. 'I can see that you want to do this very much. OK, go ahead. Let's see what you can do.' ⁴ . She wanted to be in the musical so much. At the end, the director said thank you to everyone and Steffie said a big thank you as well.

At 4 o'clock that afternoon, Steffie learnt that she was in the musical! And what is more, her best friend was in it too!

- Steffie danced and sang better than ever before.
- I have to go to school early tomorrow morning to dance for them!
- When the boy finished, he got up.
- Then there was no hot water for a shower and Steffie had to wait.

Reading

1 Put the paragraphs of the story in the correct order 1-4.

- A In the boat, Trish and Josie were very frightened. They were sitting holding each other when Josie stood up and started screaming 'Help!' 'Sit down, Josie,' Trish shouted. 'You'll fall in!' She tried to pull her sister down but another wave came at that moment and Josie fell over the side of the boat into the sea! She couldn't swim and she was going underwater! Trish didn't know what to do, but then the lifeguard came up behind Josie and caught her under her arms. He lifted her back into the boat and then he pulled the boat back to the beach. They were safe.
- B Last weekend, Dave, his two younger sisters and his parents went to the sea. It was a bit windy but it was a nice sunny day. When they got to the beach, they put on their swimsuits. Mum and Dad sat down on the sand and the children took the boat down to the sea. It was a small plastic boat, big enough for three children. Dave, who was thirteen, helped his sisters Josie, seven, and Trish, eight, into the boat and he pushed it into the sea.
- C Dave shouted to his parents and waved his arms in the air. The lifeguard who was sitting in his chair on the beach looked up to see what was wrong. He started running down the beach to the sea. Dave's parents also ran down to the water. They were calling the girls' names but there was nothing they could do. The wind was taking the boat away from them. The lifeguard ran into the sea and started to swim towards the boat.
- D The girls laughed and waved to their parents on the beach. There were other people in the sea and they looked at the little girls and smiled. They were having a great time! Suddenly, the wind blew strongly and a big wave took the boat out to sea. Dave couldn't hold it because the wind was very strong. The boat was going out to sea with the girls in it!

2 Now choose a title for the story.

- a A silly mistake
- b Danger at sea
- c Three children in a boat

3 Read the story again and complete the sentences.

Reading

1 Read the story. What happened to Andy?

Insect adventure

- [1] My name's Flora. Last summer, my family and I went camping for the first – and maybe the last – time. The campsite was lovely: it had lots of trees and a pool, but it was also right by the sea. Our tent was nice, too: it was big and it even had 2 bedrooms! There was only one problem – the insects!
- [2] Actually, my friend Angie who was on holiday with us, was interested in insects but my brother and I were not so excited. Especially when one evening, we found a huge spider in our bedroom! No, not nice at all. In the end, Dad had to come and chase it outside but I still couldn't sleep after that. Perhaps it was walking back into the tent right now? That night was the longest night of the holiday.
- [3] Then in the daytime, we had bees, wasps and crickets! The crickets jumped all over the place but I suppose they weren't too bad. The wasps, however, were REALLY annoying. We were trying to eat our jam sandwiches and drink our cokes when suddenly there were about ten wasps all around us! Horrible!
- [4] Unfortunately, Andy got so angry with the wasps that he hit them with Dad's newspaper and then he got a nasty wasp sting on his arm! Poor Andy! We had to rush to the chemist's to buy something for the sting.
- [5] Andy and I couldn't understand Angie. All she wanted to do was to look at the insect life around the campsite – she wasn't interested in going in the sea at all! She wants to become a scientist when she grows up so I think she was practising. Anyway, Andy and I got really annoyed with her one day soon after the accident with the wasps and we threw her in the pool – the shallow end, of course! After that, she became less boring and she came swimming with us every day.
- [6] The evening before we went home, we had a barbecue on the beach and invited some other families to come too. We met some nice children about our age who go to the campsite every year so, you never know, we may go back there again next year after all!

2 Choose the correct answer, a or b.
